Crozes Hermitage appellation

The appellation Crozes Hermitage has been officially recognized as an AOC wine (appellation d'origine contrôlée) since 1937 and was born on exceptional terroirs. Well-known for its gourmet red fruit hints of Syrah it also exists in extremely fresh white wines with white floral flavours.

It extends over 11 towns and villages (Érôme, Serves-sur-Rhône, Gervans, Larnage, Tain-l'Hermitage, Mercuriol, Chanos-Curson, Beaumont-Monteux, La Roche-de-Glun et Pont-de-l'Isère) all situated in the northern part of the county Drôme.

It is the greatest appellation of Northern Côtes du Rhône wines. We often talk about the Crozes Hermitages terroirs as, by definition, they cover a vast area therefore take into account natural factors such as climate, geology, the grape variety and also the know-how of our winemakers.

As the production is grown over a vast area (1,650 hectares) with a great soil diversity, the AOC Crozes-Hermitage wine is obviously one of character with many different features. The plains of river pebbles surrounding Mercuriol, the so-called white clay soils (kaolin) not forgetting the granite slopes more to the north, all give their particular distinctions to the wines pleasing the tastebuds of oenologists.

However, novices are not to be forgotten as Crozes-Hermitage is one of the wines well-appreciated for its simplicity with its distinctive hints and flavours even for those with a less-expert palate.

Syrah produces mainly red wine, a grape variety originating from here at the heart of the Rhône Valley and not, as some legends say, from Syria or even Syracuse. Crozes-Hermitage white wines represent only 10% of the appellation and come from Roussanne and Marsanne grape varieties.

 Kaolin : Kaolin is a white friable, fire-resistant clay, composed mainly of aluminium silicates

Saint Joseph appellation

Well-known for the terraced vineyards situated on the right banks of the Rhône river, this appellation is the product of the delicious Syrah* grape variety. It is one of the most well-known and amongst the best Côtes du Rhône wines, first grown in Ardèche Hermitage. In the beginning Saint Joseph wine was called "Mauves wine". Mauves is a village situated just south of Tournon sur Rhône. Starting from 8th century this wine was much appreciated at the table of the Kings of France and particularly by Charlemagne. Later on Victor Hugo mentioned the wine in his novel Les Misérables.

"My brother made him drink this good Mauves wine which he does not drink himself as he considers it to be too expensive" (Les Misérables - Volume 2 Chapter 3).

The first demand of the name Saint Joseph appellation d'origine was patented in 1919 but was not successful. The wine finally became an AOC wine in 1956 and only covered 6 villages : Glun, Mauves, Tournon-sur-Rhône, Saint-Jean-de-Muzols, Vion and Lempis. The Ardèche Hermitage area is without a doubt the cradle of this great Côtes du Rhône appellation. It took another 13 years (1969) before it was extended to 26 villages covering over 60 kilometres, starting at Guilherand Grange as far as Chavanay (23 villages in Ardèche and 3 in the Loire). 1200 hectares of vines are planted on granitic slopes that mankind has modelled to grow Syrah the mythical grape variety of the Rhône Valley.

The splendid terraces that seem to hang over the river and the walls that decorate the landscape make the beauty of the view. The low dystone walls, a genuine know-how, were listed part of UNESCO World Heritage in 2018.

The red wines, coming from the unique Syrah grape variety, represent around 90% of the local production whereas 10% are white wines produced from Roussanne and Marsanne grape varieties. These varieties are identical to the neighbouring appellation Crozes Hermitage. However no need to be an expert to understand the important role the soil has to play ! Wines produced from the same grape variety will develop very different hints and aromas. The red Saint Joseph has a strong tannin, mineral edge and also hints of pepper and violet. The white wines have more apricot-like fragrances and beautiful floral hints like hawthorn and other honey-producing flowers.

Hermitage appellation

Recognized as being one of the world's best, Hermitage AOC is an exceptional wine to be served on rare occasions. This great wine comes from a unique terroir, only 130 hectares of vineyards over 3 villages in Drôme : Tain l'Hermitage, Larnage and Crozes-Hermitage. However, above all, the wine holds a mythical image : a hill and its stunning hillsides.

From the hillside slopes of Hermitage you can contemplate the Rhône as it meanders at this point; an important geological formation dating back thousands of years.

Whilst carrying out work on the land of Hermitage, geologists in fact rapidly realised that the granite soil of Hermitage AOC was strangely similar to that of the slopes on the opposite bank with the wines carrying the Saint Joseph appellation. This means that the "King of rivers" must have sculptured the landscape giving a part of Ardèche to Drôme being one of the reasons that makes Hermitage a unique terroir. If you add a rather Mediterranean climate, an ideal exposure, native grape varieties, (Syrah, Roussanne et Marsanne) along with the know-how of our winegrowers to this geological exception, you obviously find a world-renowned wine.

This wine may seem expensive for novices however the experts cannot be fooled : the rarity, the flavours and unique aromas make the bottle well worth its price.

Syrah is a star of the Côtes du Rhône vineyards and the origin of a number of Rhône Valley wines of which Hermitage is one. The wine produced on this hillside ages extremely well (30 years). It has a lovely ruby colour when of a young age and takes on a tulle* tint on ageing. Hermitage is a full-bodied and powerful wine that develops hints of small fruit, violets, spices even leather as it ages. The tannins mature and become more delicate, giving the appellation one of the finest expressions of the Syrah grape variety. Hermitage vineyards also produce white wines with the Roussanne and Marsanne grape varieties. These wines have shorter laying down storage (about 10 years). However, after a few years, fine palates discover subtle hints such as iris or even linden and amateur wine lovers are often amazed by the harmony in these great wines.

Domaine Breyton

DEVOTED WINE GROWERS

In 1982 Christiane and Jacques Breyton took over the family estate of polyculture (vineyards and orchards). Working firstly as cooperative members, they then set up their own winery in 2005 after having made several changes. In 1998 they converted to organic farming longing to go back to land and nature.

Here organic farming can be seen as a genuine conviction, rooted in the values of the estate. Already having obtained the AB label in 2000 the couple then decided to accomplish what they had started by becoming member of the Demeter Charter in 2002 certifying involvement in Biodynamic farming.

They own 5 hectares, growing Crozes-Hermitage, divided into 4 batches (1 white and 3 red) in the villages of Beaumont Montoux, Erôme and Gervans; the different terroirs giving a diversity to the appellation. 2 other plots covering 2 hectares in the IGP Collines Rhodaniennes grow varieties such as Merlot, Tannat, Malbec, Chardonnay, Colombar... offering a lovely range of country wines. For those full of curiosity who like to go off the beaten track a visit to the winery is a must.

Gaylord Machon

THE VINE I DREAMT OF

Coming from a farming family his father had other ambitions for him but Gaylord's passion for the vine was stronger. You only need to hear him talking about it to guess to what extent he loves his land and how he works using different growing and transforming methods. He owns 8 hectares under the Crozes-Hermitage appellation but has no wish to go bigger preferring to take extra-special care of what he has with his wife Aurélie. Sharing, pleasure, conviviality are all the things he likes about his work. He loves his wines so much that he gives them the names of his children, Ghany and Lhony along with the one of his grandfather Marcel. His last wine carries a more poetical and mysterious name, "La fille dont j'ai rêvé" (the girl I dreamt about). Perhaps he's talking about his vine.... The only way to find out is to go and meet him !

Domaine Saint Clair Denis Basset

A STORY OF JUICE !

Born into a family of horticulturists and winemakers, Denis Basset decided to change his way of life in 2004 after an accident with an electric cable. An experience that deeply affected him and led him to making a decision and allowing a lifetime dream to come true: becoming a winemaker and producer. Nowadays, his estate Saint Clair represents winemaking excellence in the Rhône Valley region. Denis farms 18 hectares of vineyards using organic methods under Crozes Hermitage and Saint-Joseph designations. His know-how gives birth to truly unique wines. Manual labor, generous amounts of sunshine, the diversity of soils and the winemaker's talent make magic kick into action allowing the essence of the grape to come to the fore. Vintages with poetical names like « Sparkling », « The enchanted flower », « One morning... » or « Depths of hell » add intrigue and even more so another reason to come and visit the domain.

Domaine des Entrefaux

AS GENEROUS AS ITS WINE

Discover this beautiful dwelling hidden in the hills overlooking the village of Chanos-Curson. In 1979 Charles Tardy left the cooperative winery to set up his own estate, le Domaine Entrefaux. After studying about the wine industry in the city of Maçon, it was only natural to carry on along the same path. Being a lover of the land he has been operating organic farming for over 20 years and consequently obtained the AB label in 2012. The estate extends over 3 villages, Mercuriol, Chanos-Curson and Beaumont-Montoux with vines covering 27 hectares in Crozes-Hermitage AOP. The diversity of the terroirs and the passion of the winemaker is revealed not only in his 6 wine blends (3 white and 3 red) but also in the way he talks about his trade. As generous as his wines he loves to share his love of the region, his vineyards and his wines with you. Always full of ideas, he knew how to adapt his methods of culture to grow healthy vines. Today his wines are good references so stop by the winery to taste the exquisite Crozes-Hermitage beverage.

Domaine des Louis

A CALL FROM THE LAND !

René is a young self-made winemaker who began in 2016 on his grandfather's land. His first intentions were not in the vineyards as he studied initially in a catering school then took a degree in marketing and management in the wine industry. However, the call from the land was too strong and he became a winemaker. As a tribute to his great grandfathers he named his first blend Domaine des Louis in 2018. Ever since that date the estate has expanded at a leisurely pace, from leaf to leaf to eventually cover within the following few years a surface of 5,5 hectares of grape production. Julien works alone on the land he loves so much. He shares his know-how with simplicity and his pride is obvious when he introduces you to his wines; a delightful moment to remember. A lovely place to visit at the heart of the vineyards carrying the Crozes-Hermitage appellation.

A FAMILY STORY

A lovely family story dating back to the beginning of 20th century. At that time the estate was in polyculture farming with orchards of apricots, peaches, pears, apples... and only 2 hectares of vineyards. It wasn't before 1976 that the winery was created followed by the purchase of several vine plots reaching 40 hectares today. Nowadays, the estate is managed by the 6th generation, Antoine and Alexandre. They share their passion as they take you round the winery's arched cellars with a certain charm about them. The visit ends with a tasting of their wines including a vintage of your choice. Come and savour their delightful, St Joseph and Crozes-Hermitage wines. Try "Evasion" a very delicate wine with its name a tribute to the grandfather who escaped from the prison camps during the 2nd world war. At the entrance to the village Chanos-Curson the cellar awaits those hungry to learn about wine and of course to taste it, definitely a must !

ROOTED IN ITS TERROIRS

Discover this winery inaugurated in 2019, established in the family home that has seen 6 generations go by. Laurent, belonging to the last one and a wine-grower, still has some of the writings dating back to 1600. Years ago the Veyrat family used to work with local farmers. The great grandfather was the one to plant the first vines as from 1860. Laurent arrived in 2004, a cooperative member at the time and set up his own estate despite the close relationship the family had with the Cave de Tain winery. Today the closely cared for vineyards cover 14 hectares. Green-friendly fertilizers, planting of cereals to nourish the soil, decoctions... a number of biodynamic principles that he follows and uses sensibly. He produces 5 different wines (2 white and 3 red) : L'Aurore, 1600, Le Veyrat-pied, l'Ivresse des Voleysses and l'Antre-coeur. The best way to discover how Laurent works is to taste the result.

MADE TO BE A WINEMAKER

Christine Pochon is a winemaker with quite an unusual background: initially a physiotherapist, she decided to join the family polyculture farm business (orchards, vineyards and cereals). The wine trade became her passion and she increased the size of the family vineyards from 0,5 hectares to 8 hectares. For 10 years she gave the whole production to her brother-in-law, also a winemaker but the desire to finish what she started was too strong so she had her own winery built in 2003 where her first blends were made. She obtained the organic certification in 2013. Her wines have subtle hints and are classified IGP Collines Rhodaniennes made with Chardonnay, Syrah and Merlot grape varieties. In August 2022 Sébastien Mazerat joined Christine in her adventure and together they developed 2 sulfite-free blends, leaving nature to do its work. The quality of their wines is well-known and has been rewarded several times in agricultural competitions. Fancy making a detour via the heart of hilly Drôme for a taste of fruit? Good idea, but with a difference... here it's in a bottle !

Domaine Christophe Bombrun

JUST LIKE HOME

Not the sort to embark on a career path, Christophe previously worked as an electrician then he became a winegrower and then a winemaker. He is more of the kind that does whatever he fancies and that is how he began operating his vineyards. A job that turned out to become a passion so he decided to go further and began to make his own wine. Although the estate is quite recent, opening officially in 2017, his talent dates back longer. You feel quite at home with his clear and simple explanations and how he takes his time as you share a glass of his different Saint Joseph wines with him. Not only will you take pleasure in drinking but also in the panoramic breathtaking view over the Pilat, Vercors and Mont Blanc mountains, even going as far as the Bugey range ! It's worth the detour, as like was said earlier, "you feel quite at home".

Domaine Rousset

TACKLE THE WINE SLOPES

Push the door of this winery nestled in the small village of Erôme, at the foot of the vineyards just north of the Crozes-Hermitage appellation. Stephane really loves his vines. He has been running up and down them since he was very young so it was obvious he would take over the estate from his father. His vineyards are on terraces and depending on the altitude (at the bottom, in the middle or at the top) his wines are made separately. Depending on the wine, in this way he respects the specific features of each soil before blending them together. The wines are vinified close to the winery where a completely refurbished and surprisingly modern cellar can be found just round the corner of a tiny village street.

Why not try blind tasting... or perhaps not; whatever you choose be sure of a warm and friendly welcome !

A FAMILY TRADITION

150 years of family tradition with a genuine know-how handed down from generation to generation on this domain established in 1870. The skills of Jean-Claude and Nicolas Fayolle can be found in their wines coming from 6 hectares of vineyards under the Crozes-Hermitage appellation and one under the Hermitage appellation.

In order to take special care of the vineyards and improve the quality of their wine, work on the vines is mostly done by hand. The wine cellar is located on the side of the main N7 holiday route, ideal to stop for a break or simply to take a souvenir of the terroir back with you. The wines, definitely a must to taste, are Nicolas, la Rochette, la grande Seguine or les Donnières (a famous spot on the Hermitage hillside). Why not stop on your way past ? They will enjoy your visit and you never know maybe you will want to come again !

A HERITAGE IN GOOD HANDS

Although the establishment carries Laurent's name, both brother and sister manage the estate and follow in the footsteps of the family history in the wine trade. Stopping at the cellar in the tiny wine village of Gervans to meet Céline and Laurent is a must. They took over the estate in 2002 full of devotion and new ambitions like making the most of the land by selecting plots, respecting the vine and its environment by choosing an organic production (under conversion at present), revealing the most exquisite expressions of the wines from the northern Rhône Valley; it was a tough challenge but they have succeeded with flying colours. Worth seeing : They are one of the 3 winemakers owning a vineyard under the Crozes-Hermitage appellation called le Clos Les Corniets which is a plot completely surrounded by stone walls or hedges and producing a rare wine with a limited production. Make a gourmet stop along your journey on holiday.

A FULFILLED WINEGROWER

In the small village of Gervans, along the « route des Blancs » you will find Laurent Habrard's estate. On arriving you understand immediately the philosophy of its owner : a wine cellar in the middle of just a few houses showing the need for discretion. Laurent grew up in the middle of vineyards. He took over the estate in 1998 and decided to convert it entirely into organic farming with the idea of producing quality, well-cared-for wines whilst at the same time showing great respect to the environment. A personal way of thanking mother nature for her generosity ! Laurent Habrard represents the very essence of the art of winemaking with a rich history, a perceptible passion and commitment towards quality, making each tasting session a very special one.

PUT TOGETHER – TOGETHER

Originating from the Champagne region, Hélène and Jean-Pierre Mucyn settled in the area in 2001 following a professional transition. They work together as a family madame in the vines and monsieur in the winery. More than just simply working together they are concerned both about the health of the vines and respect for nature and work constantly in pursuit of excellence. A patchwork of plots cover the 14 hectares of vineyards belonging to them. These micro-terroirs offer great diversity and the wine-grower becomes almost an artist when creating splendid blends. Their achievements will make your mouth water. Through their wines they try to make for emotions that can be just as different as they are intense. Stop by this old boating inn only a few steps away from the river Rhône and let yourself be carried away by the area and its wines....

THE HERITAGE OF A TERROIR

The story of this estate is quite unusual. The Belle family originates from the village of Larnage just round the back of the Hermitage hillside. In 1769 the Lord of Larnage offered a plot of vineyard to each family for their own consumption. That is how the family estate began, growing over the years to achieve the size of 35 hectares spreading over 7 towns and villages (Larnage, Crozes-hermitage, Tain l'Hermitage, Pont de l'Isère, Beaumont-Montoux, Mercuro and Tournon) They produce 3 appellations (Crozes Hermitage, Hermitage and Saint Joseph). The different soils make 8 blends with purposely marked different aromatic profiles, certainly a delight for Northern Côtes du Rhône wine lovers. The Louis Belle en Crozes Hermitage blend is definitely a must ! The white clay soil gives the wine its elegance, finesse and freshness. Looking for something unique ? Welcome to the land of the Lords of Larnage !

AOP - Crozes-Hermitage, Hermitage, Saint Joseph

Opening times : From Monday to Friday 8am to 12am and 2pm to 5.30pm. Saturday and Sunday on booking.

AS THE LEGEND GOES

The estate takes its name from a particular spot hidden in the middle of the vines in Larnage, not far from the castle ruins. According to the legend, locals used to leave a bottle and a glass so pilgrims could quench their thirst on passing through. Why not follow the legend and come and meet Olivier and share his devotion to his work whilst sipping a glass of Crozes-Hermitage or Saint-Joseph wine. In the vines, just like in the bottle, everything is a matter of balance, skill and harmony. Follow the wine route until you get to the estate where you can enjoy wines vinified under Opora auspices. Opora was the goddess of autumn giving her name to one of the blends. Why not try spending a night in Syrah or Marsanne ? No, it's not like it sounds, a night getting drunk but quite simply names given to guest rooms on the estate. Go on, treat yourself.

IN THE CRADLE OF CROZES-HERMITAGE

Seeking excellence; this was the daring challenge that Gérald and Romain Delhome (father and son) undertook when, in 2019, they decided to set up their own winery and its splendid cellar in the village of Larnage. For four generations this family, members of the wine cooperative, has always been devoted to taking special care of the vines. Their terroirs are on the left bank of the river Rhône, in the villages of Crozes-Hermitage, Larnage, Erôme and Gervans, the cradle of the Crozes-Hermitage appellation. Their wines are deliberately characterized by aromas reminding you of its AOP origin, now covering over 1650 hectares. With vintage wines like the Kaolin, a white wine, 100% rousanne grape variety, they make an exceptional product on the singular terroir of the white soils of Larnage representing no more than 1% of the appellation, a true gem ! Was the challenge a success ? For you to say when you taste it ...

Domaine Vendome

THE GOLDSMITH OF WINE

Domain Vendome, situated in the heart of the Crozes Hermitage wine area, although fairly new, is an estate full of enthusiasm. No doubt the name reminds you of a famous square where you can find some of the most prestigious jewellers. In this case the name comes from a plot of land only a step and a jump from the cellar that also shelters some treasures. Romain is very proud nowadays to have carried on the family tradition that began several generations ago in fruit farming. He began by following in the steps of his grandparents and ancestors then finally started planting vines in 2010 following a training course in the town of Suze la Rousse. He worked as a collaborator for around 10 years before launching his first vintage in 2020. Each bottle carries with it the mark of a know-how, of the diversity of terroirs and of a method of winegrowing that respects nature. Come and meet this winegrower with his ongoing desire to bring out the best in the fruit of his work and to share with you the authenticity of his wines through a tasting in a cosy modern wine cellar. Not to be forgotten are the numerous tempting gatherings organized by the estate over the year, offering experiences to relish !

SWEET MADNESS AND DEVOTION TO THE TERROIR

Mischievous, Tantrum, Circe, Elixir, Arpeggio... attractive names chosen by a winemaker lover. Christelle took over the just over 6-hectare family estate becoming the third generation of wine growers, full of plans for the future. A lady of the vineyard who cherishes an art de vivre and full of convictions, she shows great respect for the soil and above all wishes to bring to light the primary aromas of the Syrah grape variety. She makes her wines listening to music, her little note of lunacy ! So come and try out her wines lulled by sounds of rock, jazz or Latino music... She loves to spend time with customers in the winery talking about her passion and demand for high standards around a glass of wine.

As an extra during the summer, try the fresh apricots, peaches and especially the vine peaches straight from the orchard.

Domaine des Granges

VINE GROWERS

Managed by a charming threesome wishing to develop new savors in this well-known wine region, this estate somehow stands out on the Ardèche Hermitage landscape. The challenge taken on by Pascal, Julien and Daphné was to plant resistant vines, developed over a period of 20 years by the INRA (International Institute of Agronomical Research) with the intent of producing wines using the variety names Artaban and Floréal. In their approach, environment and the general public are at the heart of their concerns as they also wish to offer wines at more affordable prices to please a larger range of people. They also cultivate the Caladoc variety, a blending of Grenache and Malbec, along with the essential Syrah : their range will eventually be composed of 5 wines offering an attractive choice for tasting. Even though the estate is only small, it will no doubt surprise many palates.

A PURE WINEMAKER'S TRADITION

The wine-cellar is situated in the heart of the village of Mauves, the name of which pays tribute to the red-purple colour of the wines from the region. Emmanuel and Ludovic have followed in the footsteps of their father. They were born and raised in the vineyard giving them the passion for winegrowing at an early age. At the head of the estate they continue today with the know-how of their ancestors. Their vineyards are exclusively on the right bank of the river Rhône between the AOPs Saint Joseph and Cornas. All Syrah lovers will find here its typical characteristics in the different wines of the estate. Domaine Philippe and Vincent Jaboulet

A NEW ERA !

Their roots are deeply anchored in the land as they were born into a big wine family and grew up inheriting the tradition. In 2006 Philippe and Vincent Jaboulet launched a new era when they set up their own domain. Nouvelère is today a patent for their Crozes-Hermitage AOP tête de cuvée. This wine comes from vines planted over 80 years ago when mules used to work in the vineyards due to the narrow space between rows. A heritage of which they are proud and which they enhance through long maturing in the cask and also in the bottle. When talking about top ranked wines, don't think of buying wine produced that year. It is not their philosophy. Here patience rules and consequently you will only find well-ageing wines with the aromas that go with them. Don't miss a call at the winery for a warm welcome and glass of wine.

Domaine Melody

LOVE IN A BOTTLE

After beginning their studies in commercialisation for Marc and tourism for Marlène they changed directions and headed towards viticulture and oenology. They met up whilst at school in Orange and their meeting lead to setting up Domaine Melody a few years later. Marlène's parents were already members of the cooperative winery. After a stay in Australia transforming wine the desire to create their own domain emerged. Denis Larivière joined forces with them on the adventure. Together they set up their winery in 2010 naming it after the planted peach variety that was taken out in order to build the wine cellar. Marc and Marlène consider themselves very lucky to be in this trade today. Always concerned about the quality of their wines, they are constantly trying out new techniques, putting their heart into protecting and enhancing the terroirs. The names of their wines : Etoile Noire, Chaos Blanc, Premier Regard, l'Exception, Friandise... in which you can find poetry and most of all love ... wait no longer before trying them.

Domaine Les 4 Vents

A FAMILY SPIRIT

A family domain with its own history as each member of the family has contributed to the making of this wine cellar ; the grandfather with the planting of the first vines 60 years ago then the parents who developed the vineyard and finally the two sisters Lucie and Nancy who started the cellar itself. And yet, surprisingly, for their parents, they both wished to discover other horizons before making the decision to become winegrowers. The wind finally turned bringing them both, one after the other, back to the land with the wish to make it into something greater. Constantly seeking to undergo actions respecting nature whether in the vine or in the cellar they aim to accompany the grape then the wine towards its most authentic character.

Nowadays, from season to season, they keep pace with their vines and converted to organic farming methods in 2007. When they talk about them, it's with passion, just as if they were talking about family or someone close. The ladies know their vines to such an extent you can taste it in the wines they produce. Come and discover their different varieties and get to know Les Pit-chounettes, Saint Jaimes, La Rage, Les 4 Vents ...

KEEPING PACE WITH THE VINES

Keeping what's living alive and the soil healthy, moving along with the vine, ... This is the philosophy of Sebastien winemaker and founder of the estate established in 2006. Sebastien is the grandson of one of the co-founders of the Cave de Tain, Paul Girard, the name of which his grandson chose for one of his blends, paying tribute to this man of a certain charisma. Sebastien was born in the Rhône Valley and grew up amidst vineyards and orchards. A man loving nature he launched into the wine trade, a job he truly loves. Certain of his convictions, he tried several types of winemaking before choosing a biodynamic method. His wife Audrey works with him on the estate and together their curiosity and constant search for perfection lead them to trying out, adjusting and creating ways of working from the vine to the winery. A truly personal devotion that can be found in their authentic wines. If you're looking for gems, this is the place !

PIONEER IN ORGANIC FARMING

The Combier estate is made up of a family, wines and a deep respect for nature and the environment. Since 1970s they have been the genuine pioneers of healthy wine growing in organic farming. Far from the commercial aspect, here, the term "organic" is a true way of life, deeply rooted in their values. The estate was labeled in 1985, the year wine growing was first acknowledged by the certification. A lovely story of a family that no doubt contributes to the quality of their wine. Laurent's sons, now part of the estate and proud of the family heritage, add their skills to the work in the vineyards and the winery. The winery is surrounded by 45 hectares of land, particularly favourable for the culture of the Syrah grape variety. Their wines are considered one of the references of the Crozes Hermitage appellation. A warning to all wine-lovers !

Domaine Jean Esprit

THE ART OF THE WINEMAKER

The first vines were planted here over a century ago by the great great-grandfather of Jean Esprit which illustrates the deep attachment this family has to its terroir. Jean has however opened up a new chapter to the family's history by becoming the first winemaker after 4 generations of winegrowers and established the Domaine Esprit in 2017. With a passion for making wine he studied oenology with the aim of producing his own blends coming from the soil he is deeply rooted to. Wine is not his only passion as he also loves painting in his free time. He is even the artist of the winery's logo, a tribute to the Zouaves, his grandfathers' army regiment. The winemaking procedure is accompanied by great pieces of classical music, however the art of the winemaker is in the bottle. Balance, accuracy, distinct aromas.... The result of his efforts are to be admired, appreciated and especially relished. The estate can be found on the 45th parallel, an address not to be missed for lovers of Crozes-Hermitage wines.

A CROSSROADS FOR GOOD WINE

The estate has carried its traditions on for almost a century through generations. Since it first started, the winery has always stood out with its strong desire for independence. Louis Betton always preferred to transform all his production revealing his know-how right from the start. And that love for the vine was handed down from father to sons. Jérôme and Rémy are therefore the 4th generation heading the domain with 23 hectares of vineyards along with 35 hectares of orchards. They make 3 blends of red Crozes-Hermitage revealing all the potential of the Syrah variety, the indulgence of its spicy hints and elegant tannins soft in the mouth. The fragrance you find in their Crozes-Hermitage white is ideal for an aperitif. Just for information, the Mat'Lo wine is a tribute to the next generation (Mathilde and Louis) who will no doubt take over the reins of the estate one day. Choose the right direction when you get to the crossroads of good wine. Add the address to your list of visits !

PLOTS AND PLOTS ONLY !

Sebastien is a man of the land and always wanted to become a wine-maker. His childhood dream came true after a few years working in a company specialising in horticulture and market gardening. A self-made man he set up his winery in 2009 in the village of Saint-Jean-de-Muzols at the heart of the Saint Joseph appellation. On a more human scale his estate enables him to work the vines in plots.

Nowadays you can taste his know-how in his wines : Alban, Arthur and Isaline, the names of his children are his best achievements, just before his wines.

The terroirs express themselves here. You can appreciate this if you push the door to this pretty cellar and enjoy all the flavours in a glass of his wine !

WINES AND WONDERS...

From the right bank overlooking the Rhône Valley can be seen the Farge estate offering the most magnificent view from its granite terraces. A reputed know-how and its production worthy of the great names of Northern Rhône Valley wines : Saint-Péray, Cornas, Saint-Joseph red and white, not forgetting Condrieu. In this part the immaculately kept vines grow on steep slopes necessitating therefore manual labor from start to finish. In the cellar, during the different stages of vinification, Thomas applies certain biodynamic methods following the lunar calendar thus avoiding various inputs and therefore helping to preserve the Farge Domain's concern for quality. The wines produced captivate amateur wine lovers with their complex aromas, subtle balance and distinctive character. The Farge estate has a philosophy ; respecting the environment and promoting the value of the terroir while encouraging the importance of transmission and commitment towards sustainability of winegrowing.

Just follow the Gouye route, giving its name to the estate and discover something real and genuine with a breathtaking view of the meandering Rhône and Hermitage hillside, Nestled at the heart of Saint-Joseph vineyards it's the sort of place you look for with its windy, narrow road well worth the trouble when you finally get there. It's just as if time stopped in this old farm courtyard. Memories of the bygone days are present there, like imagining grape treading or the 140-year old press (1868). Philippe is a winemaker who respects nature and traditions. However, be careful when your tastebuds leave the harsh tannins behind and meet up with the suppleness of a glass of Saint Joseph !

Maison M. CHAPOUTIER

FAC ET SPERA* TAKE A BREAK IN HERMITAGE

This is one of the great names in French viticulture with exceptional world-renowned vintage wines. Since 1808 the heritage here is one of excellence and work, only bringing out the best in the terroirs. Michel Chapoutier is at the head of one of the last family institutions of, believe it or not, 8 generations, quite a merit ! Biodynamics are at the heart of the philosophy on this estate with Michel Chapoutier being their precursor. Their "Fac & Spera" motto, patience with nature and the audacity of the winemaker, all make for good wines produced by la maison M.CHAPOUTIER. However, that is not all they do. Discover the original or customized workshops where we demystify wine and you can learn about wine differently, such is the mission of the Ecole M. CHAPOUTIER. And to go even further, their welcome and love for sharing can be felt at one of the tasting sessions, whilst staying in their holiday gîte or when booking an e-bike ride through the vineyards.

AT THE HEART OF THE HERMITAGE VINEYARDS

An excellent domain founded in 1834, Paul Jaboulet Aîné is one of the great names of the Rhône Valley wine region. The name can be clearly seen on signs on the Hermitage hillside not far from the mythical Chapelle St Christophe which also belongs to the estate. VALLÉE
GASTRONOMIE

AT THE FOOT OF THE FAMOUS HERMITAGE HILLSIDE

If you want to learn everything about wine here's the place to stop ! This is both a historical and wine loving country. Louis Gambert de Loche was not only the founder president but also a visionary winegrower. In 1933 when he set up the winery he knew full well it would become internationally renowned and the flagship of its sector. His devotion to nurturing the soil and promoting the appellations belonging to the Rhône Valley, has been handed down through generations. Nowadays the Cave de Tain is one of the references when it comes to talking about the "Syrah" grape variety. Visiting the storehouses, the wine-tasting cellar and taking a stroll along "les Pas de Gambert" through the vines demonstrate the exceptional mastery in producing 5 great classical vintages from northern Côtes du Rhône including organic grown ones. Let yourself be tempted...

Domaine Marc Sorrel

TREASURING THESE GREAT TERROIRS

As from 1926 the Sorrel family became owners of vineyards situated in the Hermitage terroir. Their first bottles were vinified in the building that still shelters to this day a beautiful vaulted cellar. 3 generations later in 1982 the domain was officially established by Marc, Guillaume's father, the honourable heir of this beautiful dwelling.

Centenary-old vines that have never seen a tractor or chemical treatment and cultural methods firmly handed down with unfailing respect for the vineyards.

Our wine-grower owns plots in hamlets like les Bessards, le Méal, les Greffieux, les Rocoules. Here, when they hear the names of these great terroirs, amateurs of Hermitage wines will not be fooled !

Just open the door to this cellar to start your journey into the making of wine. The winemaker himself will welcome you and offer tastings from the barrel only and then ... the magic kicks in. In a setting that will come as a surprise to many, come and savor something quite out of the ordinary !

Domaine Jean-François Jacouton

AN AUTHENTIC WINEMAKER

In one of the tiny streets in the pretty village of Vion come and meet Jean-François ready to welcome you in his arched cellar to discover some of his wines. He chose to carry on working his grandfather's vineyards who taught him the work of the vine at an early age. It was only natural it should become a vocation. He set up his domain in 2010. Trained in different wineries and estates in the area, he started off as a collaborator for a few years before making his own wine reserves carrying the IGP Collines Rhodaniennes then Saint Joseph appellations.

His wines are as authentic as the winemaker himself. Just like a great vintage, give him time to open up and he will tell you all about his wines and his terroirs with great passion. Superb, fine, powerful; numerous adjectives describe his Saint Joseph wines that will certainly delight the palate of wine lovers of this appellation. Looking for authenticity ? MY WINE ROUTE

OUR TOURIST ROUTES

Follow our small routes and discover some thrilling adventures...

THE VIEWPOINT ROUTE

The ideal itinerary for discovering the Rhône Valley and its terroirs ! It runs parallel to the N7 starting from Tain l'Hermitage, Gervans, Serves-sur-Rhône or even Erôme, as you choose. And all along, the journey takes you from simply discovering to astonishment.

You can roam through the vineyards on foot or by car (to reach the viewpoints directly) on the way taking in the beautiful landscapes. Enjoy the diversity of the views. The focal point is the Rhône river meandering at the foot of the slopes. It was the river itself that created this islet called Hermitage.

With easy access from the D163 road, the Pierre Aiguille is a unique viewpoint overlooking the river as it weaves through Tain Tournon and also the ideal place for bird watching with its preserved flora zone. By continuing along this route you come to the Méjeans viewpoint offering a panorama of the unfamiliar northern side of Pierre Aiguille along with the table du Roy. You can also reach the Puy du Serves viewpoint from the D630 road which offers a somewhat different landscape.

PANORAMIC ROUTE

Starting from the old centre of Tournon-sur-Rhône (via the route de Pierre) set out to discover the beautiful panoramic views of the Rhône Valley. Surrounded by vineyards you will find yourself at the heart of the Saint Joseph wine area. From the panoramic route splendid landscapes will catch your eye. And don't hesitate to stop at the two viewings points along the way.

For a change you can also reach this same place via the famous road with its 100 bends (D219) the route de Plats.

Why not make the most out of this journey by doing a round trip from the panoramic route to Saint-Romain-de-Lerps via the D86. Round thirty kilometres taking you through terraced vineyards down to the Rhône valley offering, on a clear day, a superb view of the Vercors mountain range.

Tip for those who love wine terroirs or photography : Here you have a great play area all year round !
